

Did you purchase airfreight shipping services to or from Canada (except to/from the United States) between January 2000 & September 2006?

If so, apply now to receive money from class action settlements.

What is a class action?

A class action is a lawsuit filed by one person on behalf of a large group of people.

What is this class action about?

Class actions were commenced in Ontario, British Columbia and Quebec alleging an unlawful conspiracy to fix prices for airfreight shipping services to or from Canada between January 2000 and September 2006.

Previous settlements were reached with 12 groups of defendants. Those settlement funds (less court approved counsel fees and disbursements) were distributed to eligible class members in 2019.

Additional settlements totaling CDN$16 million were reached with British Airways and Air Canada. Both settlements were approved by the Ontario Court. The Air Canada settlement was also approved by the British Columbia and Quebec Courts. With these settlements, the class actions have been resolved against all defendants.

The settlements represent a resolution of disputed claims and are not an admission of liability or wrongdoing. British Airways and Air Canada expressly deny any liability or wrongdoing.

Am I eligible to receive money?

You could be entitled to compensation if you purchased Airfreight Shipping Services to or from Canada (except to/from the United States) between January 2000 and September 2006. You can claim in respect of purchases from any air cargo carrier. However, you cannot claim in respect of shipments on integrated air cargo shippers (such as FedEx, UPS, DHL and TNT) on their own aircraft. No wrongdoing is alleged against the integrated air cargo shippers.

See FAQ #6, online at www.aircargosettlement2.com, for more details on who is eligible for compensation.

How much money will I receive?

Payments will be distributed on a proportional basis, based on the value of your claim relative to the value of all approved claims.

The value of your claim will be calculated based on: (i) the amount of your Airfreight Shipping Services purchases; and (ii) the categorization of your purchases (i.e., whether you purchased directly from an air cargo carrier and whether you purchased for your own shipments or as a freight forwarder). See FAQ #6 for more information.

How do I apply for a payment?

Claims must be filed no later than July 4, 2022.

You can apply for payments online at www.aircargosettlement2.com. If you do not have Internet access, call the claims administrator at the number listed below. It does not cost anything to apply to receive a payment. Counsel fees will be paid out of the settlement funds.

Original Claimants: If your claim was approved in the first distribution ("Original Claimants"), you must file an abbreviated claim that confirms your contact information and provides a statement of release. Your claim will be valued based on the information provided in the first distribution.

New Claimants: If you did not file a claim in the first distribution, you must file a complete claim to be eligible for payment. Where available, you can rely on sales records provided by the defendants, the International Air Transport Association (IATA), and/or freight forwarders to establish your purchases. You can also provide your own purchase records.

When will I receive my money?

Accurate processing takes time. Depending on the number of claims filed, it could be up to one year before you receive compensation. Please check www.aircargosettlement2.com for regular updates.
